

Kindergarten-12th Grade School Dress Code Policy

Respect and appreciation for Torah and education should be reflected in the way we dress at school. Our manner of speech, behavior, and overall presentation should reflect the nobility, self-respect, and inner tzniut (modesty, dignity) we are commanded to possess as members of a holy nation. Furthermore, the way we dress affects our seriousness in the classroom. The Denver Academy of Torah's dress code reflects the dignity and honor of a Torah school and maintains a positive educational atmosphere guided by principles of halacha.

Students who are not appropriately and neatly dressed in accordance with the dress code will not be permitted in class.
